●Let's write!

Yayoi sometimes writes words in her artworks.

What words would you write in this painting if it were yours?

Write it in the space below
when you get home!

EVERY DAY I PRAY FOR LOVE (2023)

Here, Yayoi writes about her life and her love for creating art!

What could this be?

What do you think it's saying? Let's imagine and fill in the blanks!

First Floor

I am

jumping? dancing?

My name is hard?

soft?

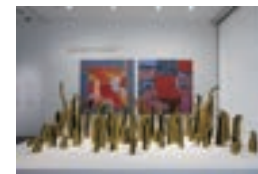

When you touch me, I feel...

I am in a...

Can you try to copy me?

LIFE (REPETITIVE VISION) (1998)

Turn the page!

●Let's observe!

Can you find the artwork called Desire of Death?

Stand in front of the work and answer the questions below!

What "things" do you see?
How many are there?

If you could describe the artwork in one word, what would it be?

Talk about it with the people you came with!

Have you seen this tool before?
When would you use it?

Desire of Death (1975-76)

Now, look at the artwork from the opposite side!

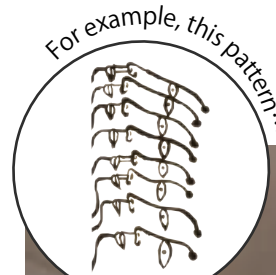

Does it look different?

Did you notice anything new?

Try looking at it from lots of different angles!

●Look for patterns!

Look at the wall of paintings. Can you find any patterns that are used over and over again in different paintings?

Look closely at the original works!

Out of all of the patterns you found,
which one is your favorite?
